

A new level of comfort and convenience for hotels and their guests.

OPERA Kiosk, the first hotel kiosk to combine the ability of guests to check in and out of their rooms as well as provide the ability to check in for flights, utilizes the same self-service technology that already moves millions of airline passengers through airports every year.

New Level of Comfort and Convenience

- Reduced wait times at the front desk
- Quick and easy check-in of less than one minute
- Reallocate staff for better guest service
- Speedy check-outs with zero balance and interim bills
- Convenient access to flight check-in

Flexibility for Branding

- Power to design your own screens
- Do it yourself parameters - you decide what to turn on
- Personalize graphics for your individual brand identity

Hotel Check-In

- Credit card or loyalty card swipe to look up reservations
- Added security with a multi-tiered look up
- View your messages before you get to your room
- Indicate room feature preferences to get your guest in the right room
- Easy user modifications to departure date and credit card information

Hotel Check-Out

- Just in case you missed it, view any new messages before leaving the hotel
- Quickly change method of payment as you walk out the door
- Validation of your guest's bill for easy review
