INTERNATIONALITY Multi-Lingual

Vision contains translation table functionality permitting additional languages and translations to be entered and displayed. You can log on and work in your language of choice, and by employing the Dictionary and the Vision Alert product, automatically send your report to various international locations where the recipient can view the same report in their own language. This is possible because not only has the Vision product been translated, but also the data codes and business dimensions within it.

Vision is double-byte enabled and is therefore able to accommodate the special requirements of non-European languages such as Chinese and Japanese.

Multi-Currency

Vision supports the extensive multi-currency functionality of the various data sources for which it is available. Using Vision for MICROS-Fidelio, you can work, report and consolidate data in an unlimited number of currencies. Furthermore, Vision allows revaluation reporting with many different exchange rates available per currency.

International Compliance

Accounting conventions vary in different countries and regions. Vision complies with major accounting standards, reporting requirements and user interfaces.
